DARAMOLA BAGS NIGERIAN UNION OF JOURNALISTS TOP AWARD

In recognition of his professionalism in Education, Administration and sterling leadership qualities, the Vice-Chancellor, of the Federal University of Technology, Akure, Professor Adebisi Daramola, has been presented with an award of excellence as an outstanding Educationist and Distinguished Administrator, by the Nigerian Union of Journalists (NUJ), Ondo State Council. The award was presented at the Council's Award and Dinner night tagged "Celebrating Professionalism" one of the event which marked the 2015 Press Week held at NUJ Press Centre Adebemile, Akure recently.

Explaining the rationale for the award, the State Chairman, Comrade James Sowole, described Professor Daramola as a man of high moral standard, under whose leadership FUTA has become a hallmark of excellence and a pride to Ondo State and Nigeria. He said Professor Daramola has not only improved on what he met on ground on assumption of office but has also added significantly to the stock of infrastructure and championed a revolution that has made FUTA a force to reckon with among its peers. "We are confident that the Education system and the Nation at Large will continue to benefit from his laudable contributions to development of the education sector," Comrade Sowole said

Senator Tayo Alasoadura presented the award to the Vice Chancellor who was represented by the Public Relations Officer of the University, Mr. Adegbenro Adebanjo
