

FUTA NEWS

PHILANTHROPIST DONATES ADMINISTRATIVE BUILDING TO FUTA'S SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT TECHNOLOGY

The School of Management Technology (SMAT) will soon have an administrative building courtesy of philanthropist, Chief (Dr.) Rotimi Ibidapo. In his remarks during the foundation laying ceremony to kick start the project, the donor described giving as a way of life which he has practiced over the years. He urged the people present to learn to give and contribute in all means to national development saying it is a means of propagating goodwill. “I am not the richest, but one thing I have learnt in life is that anyone who can’t give back is like one who is barren” he said. Speaking further, Dr. Rotimi Ibidapo, the Aare Atunluse of Owo Kingdom and a front-line business man , assured the University authority that the building project will be completed in record time.

Earlier, the Vice-Chancellor, Professor Adebisi Daramola represented by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), Professor Tunde Arayela noted that the School of Management Technology as always been lucky in attracting donors. Appreciating the donor he encouraged him to contribute more in assisting the University in the growth process.

In the same vein, Dr. A. F. Lawal, Head of Department, Project Management Technology representing the Dean, School of Management Technology, Professor Tomola Obamuyi expressed his appreciation to the donor for his benevolence to the School. He added that the School of Management Technology which is regarded as most beautiful and fastest growing School in the University has recorded the highest number of Postgraduate students in enrollment.

The foundation laying was done by the trio of the Deji of Akure Kingdom, Oba Aladelusi Aladetoyinbo the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), Professor Tunde Arayela and the donor, Chief Dr. Rotimi Ibidapo.