SPECIAL RELEASE SECURITY ALERT

In view of the security situation in the country, it has become imperative for all members of the University Community to be security conscious and contribute to the sustenance of security of lives and property.

Any suspicious person, activities or object that may likely cause a breach of the peace or undermine security of lives and property should be reported promptly to the Security Unit and other relevant authorities.

Members of the community are also advised not to visit dark alley and deserted routes and roads after dusk unaccompanied.

It is also advised that members of the University community should exercise caution and show circumspection when boarding vehicles and interacting with strangers outside the University community.

Management will continue to put proactive measures in place to ensure the sustenance of peace and security of lives and property on campus.

Many thanks.
