FUTA HOSTS ANUPA NEC MEETING

Members of the National Executive Council of the Association of Nigerian Universities Professional Administrators (ANUPA) have paid a courtesy call on the Management of the University as part of activities marking its 2014 Executive Council Meeting. The Council which was led by its National President, Mr. Samuel Mwansat appreciated the University for agreeing to host it at a very short notice. He applauded the interest of Management in the affairs of the Association, terming the University an ANUPA friendly institution. Mwansat assured Management of its readiness to always partner with the University promised to take advantage of FUTA's serenity to brainstorm for positive developmental contributions to the society.

The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic), Professor Adedayo Fasakin who represented the Vice-Chancellor told the gathering that the University holds the Association in high esteem. He underscored the fact that members of the Association in FUTA are key players in decision making particularly because of the wealth of knowledge of some of the Association's experienced hands, adding that the University could not do without them and are proud of their contributions.

He expressed delight at the Association's choice of FUTA as venue for its annual statutory meeting. He said he was sure the outcome of the meeting would be useful for further developing tertiary education in the country.

Earlier, the Branch President, ANUPA FUTA, Dr. Toyin Onayinka told the August gathering that the choice of FUTA for the meeting was a result of its rising profile in qualitative education.
