ABSTRACT
This project is based on delta compression via HTTP. The objective was to reduce the time it takes for users to wait will loading a resource using a user agent which has some sort of connection to HTTP. Reducing the total time, it takes to load resources was achieved using the VCDIFF algorithm and a custom string manipulation technique.